

Health Care Management in the Post-COVID Era

Nicola Sarandria*

Medical Media Services, Italy.*

Published January 11, 2023

ABSTRACT

This abstract focuses on the need for restructuring the strategic backbone, especially in terms of patients' safety and increasing the medical center ranking and standing in the healthcare field, in order to increasing the number of medical examinations performed by the medical center. This will be done by facing the issue from multiple point of views: in terms of increasing quality and patients' safety COVID-19 hit the healthcare sector hard, revealing weaknesses and downfalls of hospitals and private medical centers a like. There is a need for funds and proper measures of quality and improvement for the sake of the patients. Proper healthcare management and directive funds are necessary in order to improve and keep the standards of healthcare for the only goal that must exists in a medical hospital or private medical clinic, the wellbeing of the patients above everything else.

Keywords: Post-Covid, Health care management

Corresponding author: Nicola Sarandria, Medical Media Services, Italy, E-mail: nicola.sarandria@st.hunimed.eu

Citation: Sarandria N. (2023) Health Care Management in the Post-COVID Era. J Infect Dis Res, 6(S1): 03.

Copyright: ©2023 Sarandria N. This is an open-access article distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution License, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original author and source are credited.